The ClimateMusic Project: Accelerating Climate Action
We connect people to climate science and action through music.
We believe that greater understanding of the urgency of the climate crisis will lead to greater motivation to take action.

And that music provides a powerful language to communicate that urgency.

That's why we created The ClimateMusic Project.
WE EXIST TO TURN UP THE VOLUME ON CLIMATE ACTION

PAIRING preeminent scientists with extraordinary composers to produce powerful science-guided music that emotionally communicates the urgency of climate change.

REACHING people in diverse communities who can be moved to take action.

PROVIDING access to information and resources that support engagement in climate action.

OUR REACH SO FAR...

- 60 events reaching audiences in more than 30 countries
- Inspiring musicians & audiences to become climate activists
- Performances with world class recording artists
- Global media coverage, e.g., NY Times, BBC
From 2022 through 2024, we will increase our impact through:

1) Major expansion of the size and diversity of audiences reached
   • Increasing the number and size of live and on-line performances
   • Focusing on high-impact events
   • Expanding strategic partnerships

2) Creation and performance of new music in variety of genres with artists from different areas of the US and the globe
   • Supporting the creation of science-guidance portfolio compositions and science-informed shorter songs (all with accompanying visuals)
   • Working with established and emerging composers and songwriters
   • Building on experience with SF Conservatory of Music to engage young composers

3) Scaling strategies for moving audiences to meaningful action
   • Testing strategies including use of new technologies for interactive involvement by audiences
   • Leveraging new and existing partner networks
   • Developing ways to measure engagement with audiences over time

THE NEXT THREE YEARS: REACHING MILLIONS TO MOBILIZE MEANINGFUL ACTION
The ClimateMusic Project is a powerful example of the positive impact that artistic narrative forms, in this case music guided by science, can have to educate and to motivate action on the climate crisis. The performance that I experienced in Mexico City has stayed with me.

ANDREW REVKIN
DIRECTOR,
INITIATIVE ON COMMUNICATION & SUSTAINABILITY, THE EARTH INSTITUTE, COLUMBIA UNIVERSITY, NEW YORK

I've inhabited the intersection of music and the environment essentially throughout my life . . . So it was with great excitement that I tracked the launch and work of The ClimateMusic Project. Their work integrating musical creativity around the climate challenge is a vital part of the path forward on this epic challenge, which is as much about communication innovation as it is about new technology and policy.

It has been and continues to be a pleasure and an honor to work on this vital project.
OUR LEADERSHIP TEAM
Executive Team + Senior Advisor

STEPHAN CRAWFORD
Founder, Executive Producer

Stephan is the San Francisco-based artist who conceived and launched The ClimateMusic Project. He combines interdisciplinary insight with a mind for synthesis, qualities which sparked the creation of The ClimateMusic Project. In 2019 he was profiled by Yamaha for its Inspired series of artist interviews.

FRAN SCHULBERG
Executive Producer

Fran is an attorney who has focused on issues related to international environmental policy for her entire career. A former Fellow at The Council on Foreign Relations, Fran worked for more than two decades as a consultant in support of international organizations and government agencies addressing environmental issues.

LAURIE GOLDMAN
Senior Advisor, Public Engagement

Laurie is a veteran international policy professional who has held senior positions in government, industry, and academia. She has served as Deputy Director of UC Berkeley’s Global Engagement Office and the head of Global Trade Policy for Levi Strauss & Co.
Dr. Collins is an internationally recognized expert in climate modeling and climate change science, and the Director for the Climate and Ecological Sciences Division at the Lawrence Berkeley National Laboratory. At the University of California, Berkeley, he teaches in the Department of Earth and Planetary Science.

Dr. Ackerly is the Dean of the College of Natural Resources (CNR) at UC Berkeley, and a faculty member in integrative biology with research interests in climate change impacts on biodiversity, integration of phylogenetics and ecology, and conservation biology in relation to 21st Century climate change.

Dr. Schneider is the Theodore Y. Wu Professor of Environmental Science and Engineering at Caltech. He was named one of the “20 Best Brains Under 40” by Discover Magazine, was a David and Lucile Packard Fellow and Alfred P. Sloan Research Fellow, and is recipient of the James R. Holton Award of the American Geophysical Union.

Dr. Silver is the Rudy Grah Chair and Professor of Ecosystem Ecology and Biogeochemistry in the Department of Environmental Science, Policy, and Management at U.C. Berkeley. Her work seeks to determine the biogeochemical effects of climate change and human impacts on the environment, and the potential for mitigating these effects.
Dr. Alison Marklein is an ecosystem biogeochemist with a focus on food security, climate resilience, and nutrient management who currently is Staff Scientist at the carbon sequestration startup Eion. She received her BA from Cornell University in 2008 and her PhD from UC Davis in 2014, and has since worked for UC Berkeley, Lawrence Berkeley Lab, and UC Riverside. She is also an accomplished musician.

Dr. Garrett Boudinot’s career has focused on how climate change will impact us and what we can do about it. He currently works at Cornell University on carbon dioxide removal and agricultural responses to climate change, and serves on the ecosystems working group for the New York State Climate Impacts Assessment.

Patrick Thieringer is a Civil Engineering PhD student at Colorado School of Mines. He is also an accomplished Jazz guitarist.

LEADERSHIP COUNCIL
To date, we have partnered on events with a wide array of leading organizations, including The National Academy of Sciences, The World Bank, The European Union, and many more.

We have also worked with leading corporations such as Arup and Canadian Solar.

These relationships have been mutually supportive, and have allowed us to develop to our current position.

We are now seeking to develop additional partnerships and sponsorships to accelerate our work while providing substantial benefits to your organization.
THANK YOU
